To be Sold on the

FIRST FLOOR OF THE AUCTION ROOMS,

Corner of 10th and D streets,

WASHINGTON, D. C.

ON

Tuesday evening, January 10th, 1865.

Commencing at 7 o'clock.

The Books and the objets de vertu Catalogued herein, were collected by EDWARD M. THOMAS, a colored man, a resident of this city, who died in February, 1863, and the collection is now offered for sale for the benefit of his widow.

It is not intended to affix any adventitious value to the collection by this allusion to the collector; but an interest naturally attaches to the efforts of a man, who, surmounting the prejudices of caste and the disadvantages of a want of early education, devoted his leisure hours and his spare means to literature and art.

The collection of Coins and Autographs is not surpassed in this country; and would, as a whole, be a most valuable acquisition to any public Library or Society.

 Gentlemen who cannot attend the sale personally, may use conveniently the inlaid list and address, and may have their orders carefully and promptly carried out.
